

ABOUT THE AUTHORS AND EDITORS

Australian anthropologist Ian S. McIntosh (PhD) is an adjunct professor in the Indiana University Lilly Family School of Philanthropy, and the Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI) School of Liberal Arts. He is also the director of international partnerships at IUPUI, and the associate director of the Confucius Institute in Indianapolis. He is the founder of the Sacred Journeys Project, and a co-founder of the heritage group Past Masters International (www.pastmasters.net). In 2014, he created the Indianapolis Spiritual Trail. imcintos@iupui.edu

Maria Lavina M Alonzo graduated with a BA Organizational Communication degree from the University of the Philippines in June 2017. As someone who has always been interested in international relations and foreign policy, she subsequently entered foreign service with the Department of Foreign Affairs, particularly with the Office of Public Diplomacy. Her research interests revolve around crisis communication, leadership theories, and sports management. lavinaalonzo8@gmail.com

Lance Cedric Dador has a BA with honors degree from the University of the Philippines Manila and is a Bachelor of Laws degree candidate at the Lyceum of the Philippines University College of Law. In 2015, he served as Court Decongestion Officer for Branch 264 of the Regional Trial Court Pasig under Hustisyeah!, a joint decongestion program spearheaded by the USAID and the Supreme Court of the Philippines. The year prior, he clerked for Justice Nina G Antonio-Valenzuela in the Court of Appeals, Manila. He was also mentored by Attorney Roel A Refran, Chief Operating Officer of the Philippine Stock Exchange in Securities Regulation, Public Offerings and Taxation, while he was at the Ateneo de Manila University School of Law. He is a member of two honor societies, Pi Gamma Mu and Phi Kappa Phi. His advocacies include human rights, cancer research, financial literacy, and universal primary education. lancedador@gmail.com

Maria Paulina Florentino graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Philippine Arts from the University of the Philippines Manila. She is now enrolled in the San Beda College of Law. Her research interests include animation, art therapy, and feminist theory in Philippine literature. mpflorentino@gmail.com

Sonika Jain (PhD) has published chapters in books and papers in magazines, journals, and conference proceedings on film practice and studies, particularly on contemporary Hindi cinema, pilgrimage practice and studies, yoga philosophy and practice, and media research. She has been supervising written dissertations and mentoring film projects besides teaching courses on film and media research in universities in India (Delhi, Punjab, & Amity) and U.K. (Bristol). She has also curated photography exhibitions and directed video projects. She holds a BA (Hons.) degree (University of Delhi), an MA degree in Mass Communication (Jamia Millia Islamia University, Delhi), and a practice-based PhD in Documentary Film (University of Bristol, UK. d.sonikajain4560@gmail.com)

Chadwick Co Sy Su, editor-in-chief of The Reflective Practitioner, is Assistant Professor of Organizational Communication at the University of the Philippines Manila's College of Arts and Sciences, where he handles courses ranging from Statistics to Spanish. His attempts to fuse his research interests, teaching, and interest in travel have led to him being among the College's Outstanding Teachers for the last five years, apart from taking him to the United Kingdom, the Czech Republic, and Lithuania for conferences, paper presentations, and publications. ccsysu@up.edu.ph

Kenneth Rey O Recio, managing editor of The Reflective Practitioner, is Instructor of Communication at the University of the Philippines Manila. He is working towards his MA degree in Communication at the University of the Philippines Diliman. His research interests include gossip, social media, and the indigenous peoples.
korecio@up.edu.ph